DEADLINE NYC: Tales of New York from a Veteran Reporter

Mondays 5:00-6:00PM

For the past 40 years, Tom Robbins has been writing about New York, with stints as reporter and columnist at the Village Voice, the Daily News, New York Observer & City Limits.

He is investigative journalist in residence at CUNY's Craig Newmark Graduate School of Journalism and has written for The NewYorker.com, the New York Times, Time Magazine & others. He started out as a cab driver at Dover Garage on Hudson Street in Manhattan and worked for a community organization on the Lower East Side.
